

PENNA. RAILROAD BUYS OVER 4,000 ACRES OF LAND AT $2,000,000, MORRISVILLE AREA, FOR FUTURE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT; NO DEFINITE INDUSTRY NAMED OCCUPANT

Area Includes Several Farms and Estates in Biles Island Region in Falls Township — 2-Year Options Being Taken to Acquire Other Land in That Section — "Area Will Probably Result in One of The Largest Industrial Developments in The East Within 2 or 3 Years," Railroad Spokesman Predicts.

(By International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6—The Pennsylvania Railroad disclosed today purchase of more than 4,000 acres of land at a cost of $2,000,000 in the Morrisville area for future industrial development.

A railroad spokesman predicted the "area will probably result in one of the largest industrial developments in the East within two or three years."

The spokesman added that no particular industry has yet been named to occupy the land.

The area includes several farms and estates in the Biles Island region in Falls Township, Bucks County. The spokesman said that two-year options are being taken to acquire other land in the area.

The Biles Island area, included in the purchases, contains about 550 acres. It is on the Delaware River, separated from the mainland only by Biles Creek. The other lands involved are in the immediate area of the Bucks County section.

Current rumors in the area, which includes several farms and estates in the Biles Island region in Falls township, Bucks county, are that one or two large industrial firms are interested in building there.

A railroad official stated: "The land is being consolidated for future industrial development and we have no particular industry in mind at the moment."

The transactions are being handled by the Manor Real Estate and Trust Co., in Morrisville, a holding company organized to handle land purchases. J. W. Ewalt, real estate agent for the New York zone of the P. R. R., is the principal agent for the company.

Most of the transactions, it was announced, have been handled by Thomas B. Stockham, 3rd, of the firm of Thomas B. Stockham, Inc., in Morrisville, although Ewalt has been on the scene through most of them.

Mr. Stockham, in discussing the transaction today, said that the area extends from the Morrisville borough line to the Delaware river and around the land owned by the Warner Company to the Penna. Railroad.

"It is in the shape of a triangle and is the area in which father (the late Assemblyman Thomas B. Stockham) was interested in before he died, to develop as an industrial area. It is really the fruits of his efforts."

The land was owned by a number of farmers, and includes the tract formerly occupied by the Pennsylvania Maritime Academy.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Nearly 85 per cent of the qualified voters in the Western sectors of Berlin defied Communist and Russian threats and voted yesterday for members of the City Assembly. There were few incidents of actual interference as the Germans, in the words of an American official, showed their "overwhelming condemnation of Soviet domination." The Socialists polled the largest vote.

The United States, Britain and France served informal notice on Russia that she must disown the Communist rump regime in the Soviet sector of Berlin if the crisis in that city is to be solved. The warning was contained in a memorandum charging Soviet violations of the Berlin Constitution filed with the committee of experts of the United Nations Security Council that will study the currency dispute.

Recognition of the Seoul regime as the lawful government of all Korea will be left to the decision of individual members of the United Nations under a resolution to be introduced jointly by the United States, Australia and China.

Because of the failure of the United Nations to act, the Workers Defense League will hold hearings here in February on slave labor.

Unrest and disorders in Arab countries over defeats in Palestine may develop into protests over domestic, social and economic conditions, observers in London said.

While Communist and Nationalist armies in China were moving into new battle positions, American and Chinese business men joined in opposing further United States aid to the Chiang Government. A returning missionary said the Communists had offered protection to religious workers in their areas.

Former President Gallegos of Venezuela said that he had been exiled by the Army and implicated American oil interests in the recent revolution.

A Government victory in the election to a Constituent Assembly was seen in Argentina. Foreign Secretary Bramuglia will pay an official visit to Washington.

Former Under-Secretary of State Welles analyzed for the House Committee on Un-American Activities documents recently discovered on the estate of Whitaker Chambers, who had admitted being a former member of what he described as a Communist spy ring.

WANT LICENSE FUNDS USED FOR POLICE PAY

Quakertown Burgess Says Districts Receive Money From State

OTHER POLICE ITEMS

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 6—It was suggested at a meeting of Bucks County Police Association by Burgess George A. Scholes, Quakertown, that the association make an effort to procure for each constable and police officer, whether a member of the county group or not, the funds which are "earmarked for police protection by the Liquor Control Board," said: "For each bar or taproom and club in your township or borough, the Liquor Control Board refunds to your township or borough officials the sum of $150 and $50 respectively and police departments should receive that towards law enforcement."

"If our association does nothing else for the next year other than see to it that the proper funds earmarked for police protection are given to the police, we will have accomplished our goal," Burgess Scholes remarked. "My police department alone gets $300 from just such sources and as long as I am Burgess I am seeing to it that the policemen get it."

Discussing the needs of another police school, Chief Robert Watson, of Yardley, suggested that a police school be conducted along the penal code book. "There isn't an officer in the county who should know more about the dog laws as assault and battery and be able to know and give the answers immediately rather than some of the more highly specialized phases of metropolitan police duties."

Chief of Police James N. Marion, Washington's Crossing State Park and Walter V. McLaughlin, F. B. I. agent, were named members of an educational committee to prepare a school along more practical lines.

Chief Robert Watson, Yardley, was named chairman of the committee in charge of making plans for a trip to Washington, D. C.

Four new members, Chief of Police Stewart A. Munro, Paul J. Brennan and Henry G. Pfeiffer, all of Warmistler township and Officer Cyrus L. Tomlinson, of the Doylestown Police Department, were admitted.

It was decided to have the by-laws, which have been revised mimeographed and distributed.

The next meeting will be held Thursday, Jan. 6.

APPREHEND DRIVER OF AN AUTOMOBILE STRIKING WOMAN

Mrs. Laura Fisher, Croydon, Is Very Seriously Injured

THE PUBLIC IS OF AID

Police Chief Joseph Seader Arrests William Stickle

The alertness of a Boy Scout, and the cooperation of the public in reporting little details, lead last evening to the arrest of a motorist accused of leaving the scene of an accident without identifying himself, and of having struck and seriously injured a woman pedestrian.

Last night William Stickle, Second and Miller avenues, Croydon, was taken into custody by Police Chief Joseph Seader, of Bristol township, given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Maximilian Lawrence on the charges of failing to identify himself at an accident and leaving the scene of an accident. He is under $300 bail for court.

Stickle told Chief Seader that he became panic-stricken after the accident, and did not know what to do. The victim is Mrs. Laura Fisher, 48, Third avenue, Croydon.

She is in Nazareth Hospital after being given temporary aid at the Harriman Hospital, here. She has 29 stitches in her hip, five in her head and possibly internal injuries. She was taken to the Nazareth Hospital for X-rays.

The accident occurred Saturday evening at about 5:30 on State Rd., between Third and Fourth avenues, Croydon.

Mrs. Fisher is employed at the Philadelphia Gun Club and enroute to her home had stopped at the residence of Mrs. Ray Sattler, Fifth avenue and State Road.

Mrs. Mary Nolan, a neighbor of Mrs. Fisher, heard the impact when the car struck the victim, and she went out to see what had made the noise. At first she was of the opinion that an animal had been struck.

Arriving at the scene she found her neighbor. Police say the driver of the car drove to the opposite side of State Road, stopped and went back to where the victim lay. Mrs. Nolan summoned aid at a nearby gas station and Mrs. Fisher was removed to the Harriman Hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad. In the meantime the driver of the car disappeared.

Police Chief Joseph Seader, Bristol Township, was summoned and began a careful check of all automobiles in the vicinity. He says that pieces of Mrs. Fisher's coat were found 35 feet away, also a portion of her blouse, dress and that the lens of her glasses were knocked off from the frames.

Mrs. Fisher was walking along the south side of State Road in the same direction the motorist was driving.

In discussing the events today that lead to the arrest of Stickle, Chief Joseph Seader said that a Boy Scout whom he refused to identify, jotted down the license number of the car. "The co-operation of the public was of great aid in apprehending the driver of this car," said Seader. He then related that piecing together bits of conversation heard by women and children had been of considerable assistance.

Seader said that when he questioned Stickle as to why he left the scene of the accident, Stickle had said that he had stopped his car, went to the scene and then as the ambulance and others arrived, he became nervous and panicky, and left.

THERE'S A LIMIT

Entrusted as it is with the task of defending the country against all possible contingencies and unforeseeable emergencies, the military establishment never has been modest in its demands on the United States Treasury. But in asking for $23,000,000,000 for the next fiscal year it seeks a proportion of the nation's resources that is entirely out of line with the country's ability to pay.

President Truman senses this fact and has ordered that the military budget be cut to $14,400,000,000. Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, his economic adviser, is no less fearful of the effect upon America of giving the armed forces what they want. To grant their request, he says—or to give them much more than the $13,000,000,000 they are spending this year—would send the inflation spiral spinning upward and result in the imposition upon the country of all sorts of controls.

This, no doubt, will be the judgment not only of bankers and economists but of those who have even a moderate understanding of national finances. Except in the case of an actual war for survival, when naturally no sacrifice is too great to endure, this country cannot afford to devote so much of its substance to military preparedness that the civilian economy is unable to function.

Every billion dollars spent on defense is that much more money in circulation, accompanied by greater shortage of labor and consumer goods and of course the unleashing of inflationary forces. All Americans want their country to be safe from military attack. But they also want it to keep from blowing up from within.

COLD WAR WEAPON

Few who are opposed to government controls in principle go all out in their opposition to President Truman's proposal for an extension of restrictions on export trade. No alternate plan to keep American war materials from getting to the Soviet and its puppet states has been proposed. And the argument that a means is thus provided for preventing foreign buyers from bidding up the price of American goods is a strong one.

The President's recommendation, it is reported, will be tied to the European Recovery Program. He will ask Congress to keep export controls in force for the duration of the Marshall Plan. The present law was originally passed in 1940 and has been renewed periodically ever since. That it has stirred little opposition in House or Senate is proof of its usefulness.

The law has served as a weapon in the cold war with Russia. It has enabled this country to check the flow to the Soviet of armament, ammunition and other commodities classifiable as "war potential." Partly as a result of its exports to Russia have now dropped to the lowest point in years.

Man has evolved into quite a creature, but he still is badly handicapped by a six-inch fall of snow.

The ladies of the First Baptist Church will serve a lunch—all day and evening—next Saturday at John Thorne's store, corner Wood and Dorrance streets. There will be for sale clam chowder, plum pudding, coffee, and sandwiches, peppercorn, baked beans, vegetable soup, ice cream and cake. Each article will sell for 10 cents. A good lunch can be had for 15 cents.

On the 1st of February Miss Bartine's scholars at the public school will be moved from the old grammar school building into the high school building, where they will occupy a room to themselves.

Henry Rue is a candidate for high constable and for constable of the third ward.

Bristol Castle, No. 103, Ancient Order Knights of the Mystic Chain, on Monday installed the following officers: Monroe Barton, S.K.C.; Charles Jackson, S.K.V.C.; Charles Guyon, S.K.M.; Frank Moss, chaplain; John C. Adams, secretary; Harvey S. Rue, treasurer; Hugh Mackay, inside guard; William Schaeffer, outside guard.

The Bristol Pike has been in such a miserable condition the past two weeks as to be in places nearly impassable. The dead wagon of an undertaker from Morrisville was stalled in the mud last week opposite Samuel Headley's farm, near Wheat Sheaf. Its wheels sunk nearly to the hubs. A Bristol huckster had a similar experience at another place on the pike, his wagon wheels being nearly buried to the hub. These are only two illustrations of the condition of a pike whose owners exact a toll from person traveling over a road that only a rocky mountain goat could navigate with comfort. Philadelphia county is abolishing all toll gates within its borders. Why should our people be compelled to pay toll on a road that is not equal to a back country dirt road?

The annual meeting of the Bristol Library on last Thursday was presided over by John K. Wildman, president. Jesse O. Thomas acted as secretary.

The report of the treasurer, A. Weir Gilkeson, showed a balance in his hands of $155.09, the receipts being $407.75, and the expenditures $249.21. After the adjournment of the shareholders' meeting, a meeting of the board of managers was held. On motion of A. Weir Gilkeson, W. L. Kolb was chosen a member of the board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of James Brooks. The following officers were re-elected: John K. Wildman, president; Jesse O. Thomas, secretary; A. Weir Gilkeson, treasurer; and Miss Eastie Lawrence, librarian. The members of the board of managers are John K. Wildman, Samuel Swain, A. Weir Gilkeson, George A. Shoemaker, W. L. Kolb, Jesse O. Thomas, Mrs. W. P. Weaver, Mrs. Stacy B. Pursell, Miss S. M. Hawke, Miss M. A. Gilkeson and Miss Laura Wood.

The Penn Valley Presbyterian Church will observe a week of prayer by holding services every night, commencing next Monday. The pastor, Rev. Alexander Allison, Jr., will be assisted by his brother, Rev. John Allison, of Yonkers, N. Y., and by his father, Rev. Dr. Alexander Allison, of Bristol.

Work will be started next week putting in the new Bell telephones. Thirty-five new subscribers have been secured.

The T. B. Harkins Foundry Company is putting in a travelling crane for the handling of heavy moulds and castings.

A Tribute

After a short illness, the Angel of Death swooped down in our midst, and claimed the soul of Mary Johnson Hains, taking her to her new home in the Paradise of God. I have only known Miss Hains for 14 short months, but soon learned to appreciate and admire her. A tireless worker for her community, friends, associates in the home, always ready and eager to help, extending the hand of fellowship to those in need, and less fortunate than herself, often taxing her waning strength to the utmost, she will be sadly missed. Her going leaves a void hard to fill.

"Well done, good and faithful servant," May Light perpetual shine upon her.

BLUE CROSS REPORTS TO YOU

TEN YEARS AGO, in the Philadelphia area, Blue Cross was only an idea.

Today, it is a mighty important part of the lives of over 1,279,000 people... because it is always standing-by ready to pay their hospital bills for them. It has paid bills of as much as $2,700 for an individual subscriber!

The best way to tell you about the ten years of Blue Cross is to show you some figures. They're not ordinary figures. They represent the appendicitis operation of your friend down the street, the birth of the cute little three-year-old who lives next door, and the healthy glow now on the cheeks of that oncesickly woman the whole neighborhood was worried about. They represent 601,987 hospital cases.

Peep a little into the future and perhaps they represent money that will help pay your bill... the next time you go to the hospital.

There's still another story the figures tell. They prove that a voluntary, non-profit, community-sponsored organization can meet and solve one of the big problems almost every family faces—how to get the best possible hospital care at the least possible cost.

This reserve is essential. It amounts to the sum Blue Cross pays hospitals in four normal months. Averaged out, it comes to $2.36 per Blue Cross subscriber.

Some Blue Cross subscribers pay in advance. Blue Cross holds these funds in reserve.

These are local member hospitals. Blue Cross offers benefits in any hospital in the United States!

Over 81 percent of Blue Cross income last year was paid to hospitals to meet the bills of subscribers. Another 8 percent was set aside to pay future hospital bills.

Motrist Fined After Plea Of Guilty To Manslaughter

practically a whole day, was given a suspended prison sentence of not less than six nor more than 18 months. He was placed on probation for 18 months.

McKnight, who had the reputation of being a "fast driver" according to State Policeman John C. Frederick, of the Langhorne sub-station, was arrested on speeding and reckless driving charges in 1941, when his license was suspended; in 1946 in New Jersey, and in June, 1947, when his license was again suspended in Penna.

Taking the advice of his counsel, Lawrence A. Monroe, the defendant-motrist changed his plea from not guilty to guilty after numerous witnesses for the Commonwealth told how the defendant's car travelled 81 feet after killing one person, tumbled over and righted itself and struck two women, who were standing along the highway necessitating taking them to a hospital because they had been knocked prostrate in the grass.

The husky, dark-haired defendant insisted he was going only 35 miles an hour, although he knew that thousands of men and women, motorcycleists and others, were milling about, waiting for the jamboe.

After striking the man, the car turned over at least once, caught fire, settled back on its wheels and knocked down two women who were standing along the highway and unable to get out of the path of the "death car". The two women did not appear in court.

Other witnesses for the Commonwealth were Nicholas Castor, 57, garageman; Constable Jesse Hibbs and Special Police Officer, Horace Eisenbrey, Paul Bednarick, 19, and Frank Kumermiks, 22, both of the Commonwealth's motorcycleists; Mrs. Flora Erkes, Pennell housewife, who was sitting on her front porch and closed her eyes when she saw what was going to happen, and State Policeman John C. Frederick who investigated the tragedy.

Because the defendant fainted soon after the tragedy, and was taken to a Trenton hospital, he never gave a statement to the State Policeman and refused later to do so on grounds that his attorney had advised him "not to talk to anyone."

"After he talked to a lawyer, I didn't want a statement," Trooper Frederick testified.

The jury, which was discharged because the plea was changed, was permitted to sit in and hear the defendant's story.

Members of the jury were Clifford White, Tullytown; Clara Harstine, Plumsteadville; John P. Dugan, Bristol; Francena Strouse, Perkasie; William H. Haines, Sellersville; Paul Landenslager, Quakertown; Raymond W. Rogers, Fort Long; Anthony Missera, Bristol; Dorothy L. Rufe, Chalfont; Maria Brill, Bristol; A. Ruth Moll, Chalfont and Dorothy M. Saurman, Southampton.

The trial completed the second week of the December sessions of criminal court.

Her lone attendant, Mrs. John Smith, 808 Second avenue, Bristol, patron of honor, was attired in lustrous rose. The bodice and three-quarter length sleeves of the gown were of velvet, and the skirt of afaeta. With this she wore a yellow chrysanthemum headpiece, and she carried a bouquet of yellow geraniums.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. William E. Hakes
pastor
First Baptist Church

Jesus said, "I am the Door" (John 10:9). A door has two purposes. First, it is a means of entrance. People enter a house by the door. Only thieves attempt to get in another way. So each one who comes to know God's wonderful salvation must come by the Lord Jesus. Second, a door is a means of exclusion—for when shut and locked it keeps those outside who are there, and protects those within. Those who do not come to God by Jesus exclude themselves from heaven. "One door—and only one. On which side are you?"

23 CANDIDATES COMPLETE WEEK OF PRACTICE GAMES

Twenty-three candidates have rounded out their first week of drilling for the Bristol High court team. Under the watchful eye of Coach Jerry Bloom, the boys gave their best in order to survive the first cut of the squad which is expected early next week.

The Warriors opened their basketball season next Friday night, meeting Bordentown High in both varsity and junior varsity games on the local floor.

Candidates for the team are: Don DeLong, "Ham" Konefal, Val Bielecki, Bob Bowen, Jim Marshall, Jim Sottile, Joe Pindar, Frank Rich "Vic" Cauti, Frank Barbetta, Bob Konefal, Emil Praksta, Marty Braam, Ray Reali, Howard Grant, Paige Stewart, Jim Morrell, Mike Downs, Vince Genco, Oliver Adams, Ken Lewis, Ed Plowman, and Howard Bailey.

Of the group reporting, fifteen are juniors and the remaining seniors. Varsity players from last season are: DeLong, Konefal, Bielecki, Bowen, Marshall and Sottile.

Coach Bloom is seeking to better his record of last season when he won 18 and lost 5. The team survived the first round of the FIAA tournament and was eliminated by Norristown in the semi-finals. That was Bloom's first year of coaching at the Cardinal and Gray Institution when he installed his own style of pattern basketball.

Assistant Coach Harry McClister is again handling the junior varsity squad. Last season this quintet won 19 games and lost 4 and at one time boasted of a winning streak of 17 straight contests.

Bristol will play four games at home before the Christmas holiday, meeting Bordentown, Pennsbury, Alumni and Upper Merion.

Acts AT ONCE to relieve NIGHT CROUPY COUGHING (CAUSED BY COLDS)

For years thousands of Doctors prescribed PERTUSSIN. It acts at once not only to relieve coughing due to colds but also 'loosens up' phlegm and makes it easier to raise. PERTUSSIN is safe for both old and young. Pleasant tasting.

PERTUSSIN

Florence Tomlinson, majoring in arts and crafts, nature, homemaking and health and safety, received a curved bar pin with an extra award from the troop of three bars added to her pin; and Barbara Tomlinson, majoring in arts and crafts, nature and homemaking, received the curved bar pin with the extra award of two bars; these were made by their father and presented by their mother, one of the leaders. Florence Tomlinson won special mention, having completed six full years of scouting.

Committee women, Mrs. G. Eisenhardt, Mrs. H. Horn, Mrs. H. VanLangen and Mrs. Brener, were presented cards for the new year as were also 41 of the girls.
